Name _____ Date _____

Homophones

Circle the word that fits the sentence.

The two kings agreed to live in _____.

peace piece

Shoes are on _____ today.

sail sale

I got _____ shoes.

new knew

The _____ crawled into its tiny hill.

ant aunt

Do not _____ at the sun.

stare stair

A _____ ran into the woods.

deer dear

Owls hunt at _____.

knight night

© 2026 Eggroll Games

Name _____ Date _____

Homophones

Draw a line from each homophone to what it means.

pause ●	● a strong metal
mail ●	● to stop for a short time bored ●	● the money you pay to ride
brake ●	● a smell
scent ●	● tired of having nothing to do steel ●	● letters and packages
fare ●	● the part that stops a bike or car

© 2026 Eggroll Games

Name _____ Date _____

Homophones

One word is the wrong homophone. Circle it. Write the right word.

The hair hopped across the field.

_____

The plain flew above the clouds.

_____

You got every answer write.

_____

The cut on my knee will heel in a week.

_____

It is wrong to steel.

_____

Do not drop the glass or it will brake.

_____

© 2026 Eggroll Games

Name _____ Date _____

Homophones

Circle the word that fits the sentence.

Dad nailed a _____ to the fence.

board bored

Owls hunt at _____.

knight night

The gum cost one _____.

scent cent

The cat licked its _____.

paws pause

Do not _____ at the sun.

stare stair

The _____ hopped across the field.

hair hare

The two kings agreed to live in _____.

piece peace

© 2026 Eggroll Games

Name _____ Date _____

Homophones

Draw a line from each homophone to what it means.

heal	letters and packages
fare	correct
sail	the money you pay to ride
knew	to get well
mail	did know
plane	cloth that catches the wind
right	a flying machine

© 2026 Eggroll Games

Name _____ Date _____

Homophones

One word is the wrong homophone. Circle it. Write the right word.

My ant lives on a farm.

_____

A dear ran into the woods.

_____

It is wrong to steel.

_____

Pay the bus fair when you get on.

_____

Do not drop the glass or it will brake.

_____

The plain flew above the clouds.

_____

© 2026 Eggroll Games

Homophones

Circle the word that fits the sentence.

The two kings agreed to live in peace.

(peace) piece

Shoes are on sale today.

sail (sale)

I got new shoes.

(new) knew

The ant crawled into its tiny hill.

(ant) aunt

Do not stare at the sun.

(stare) stair

A deer ran into the woods.

(deer) dear

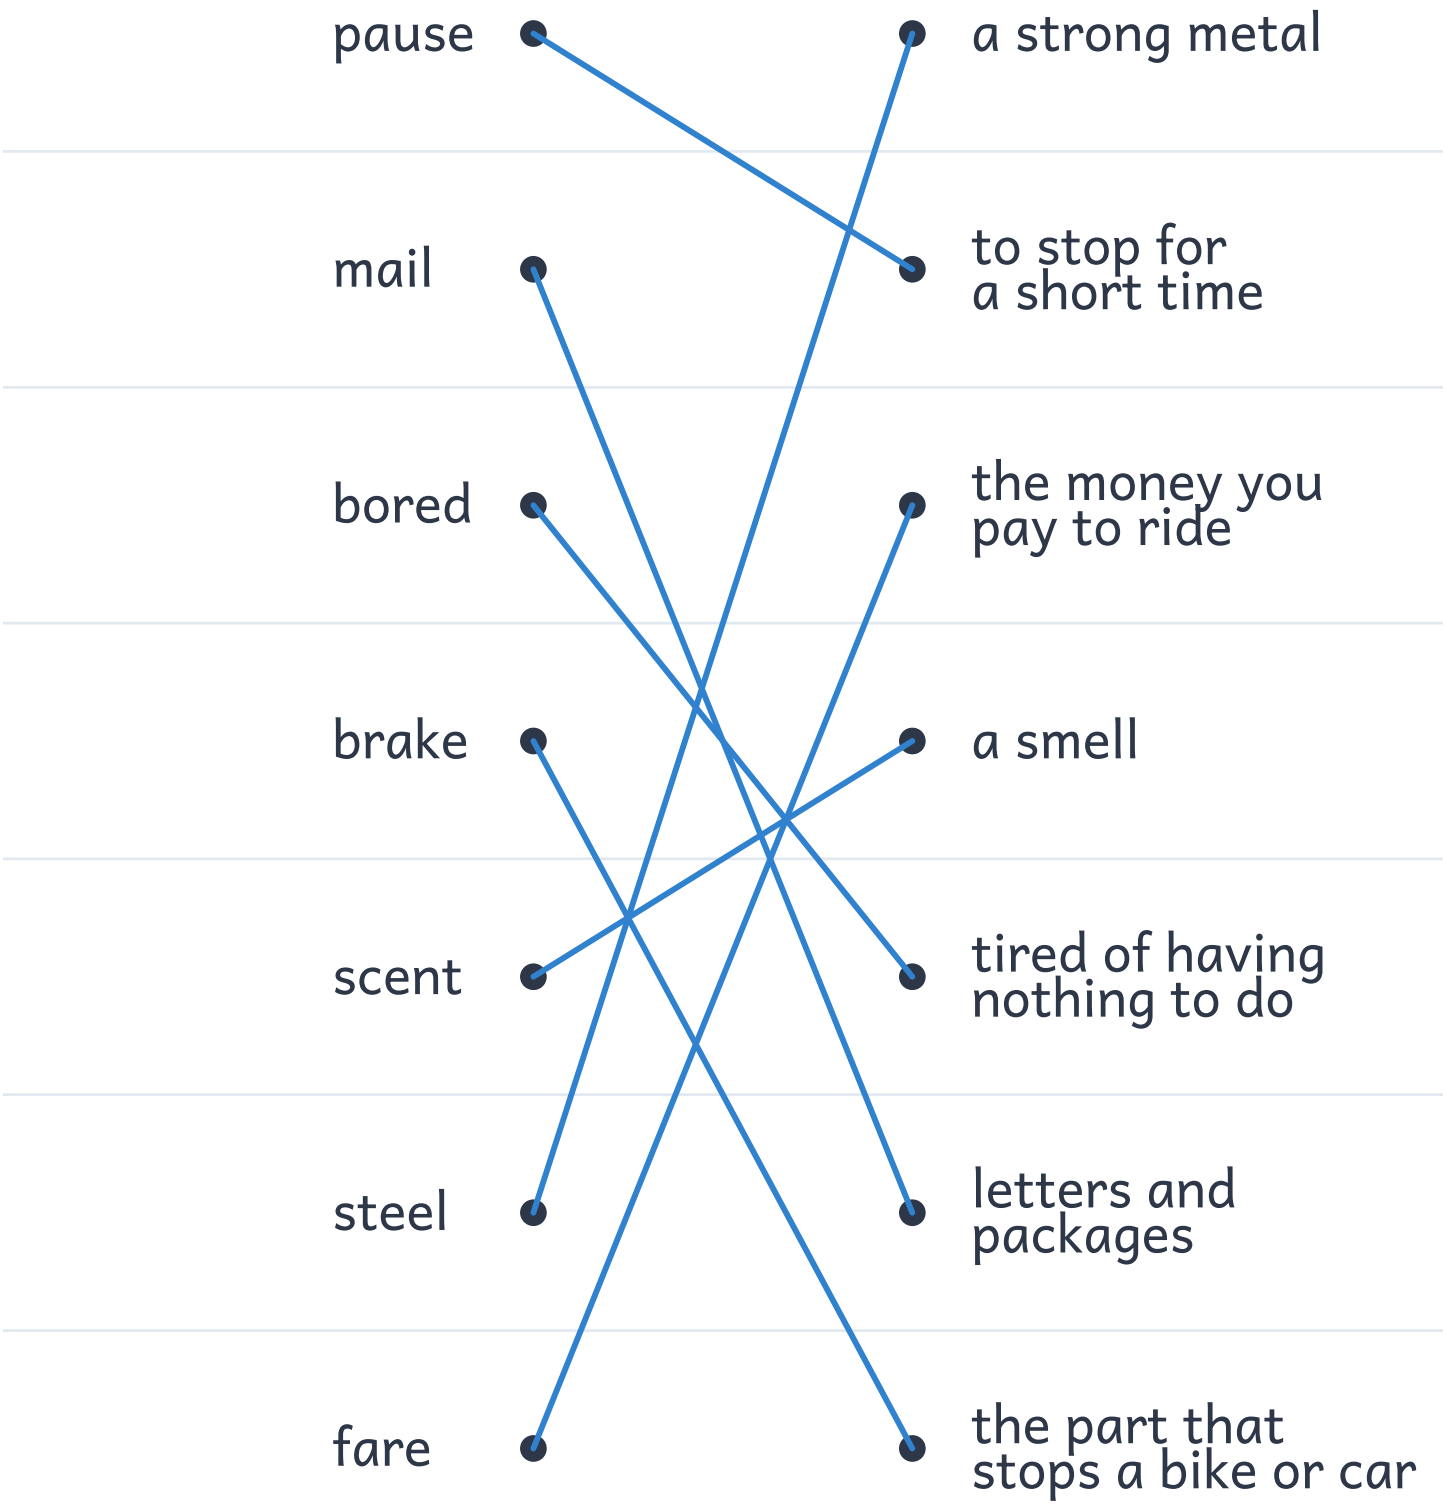

Owls hunt at night.

knight (night)

© 2026 Eggroll Games

Homophones

Draw a line from each homophone to what it means.

© 2026 Eggroll Games

Homophones

One word is the wrong homophone. Circle it. Write the right word.

The hair hopped across the field.

hare

The plain flew above the clouds.

plane

You got every answer write.

right

The cut on my knee will heel in a week.

heal

It is wrong to steel.

steal

Do not drop the glass or it will brake.

break

© 2026 Eggroll Games

Homophones

Circle the word that fits the sentence.

Dad nailed a board to the fence.

(board) bored

Owls hunt at night.

knight (night)

The gum cost one cent.

scent (cent)

The cat licked its paws.

(paws) pause

Do not stare at the sun.

(stare) stair

The hare hopped across the field.

hair (hare)

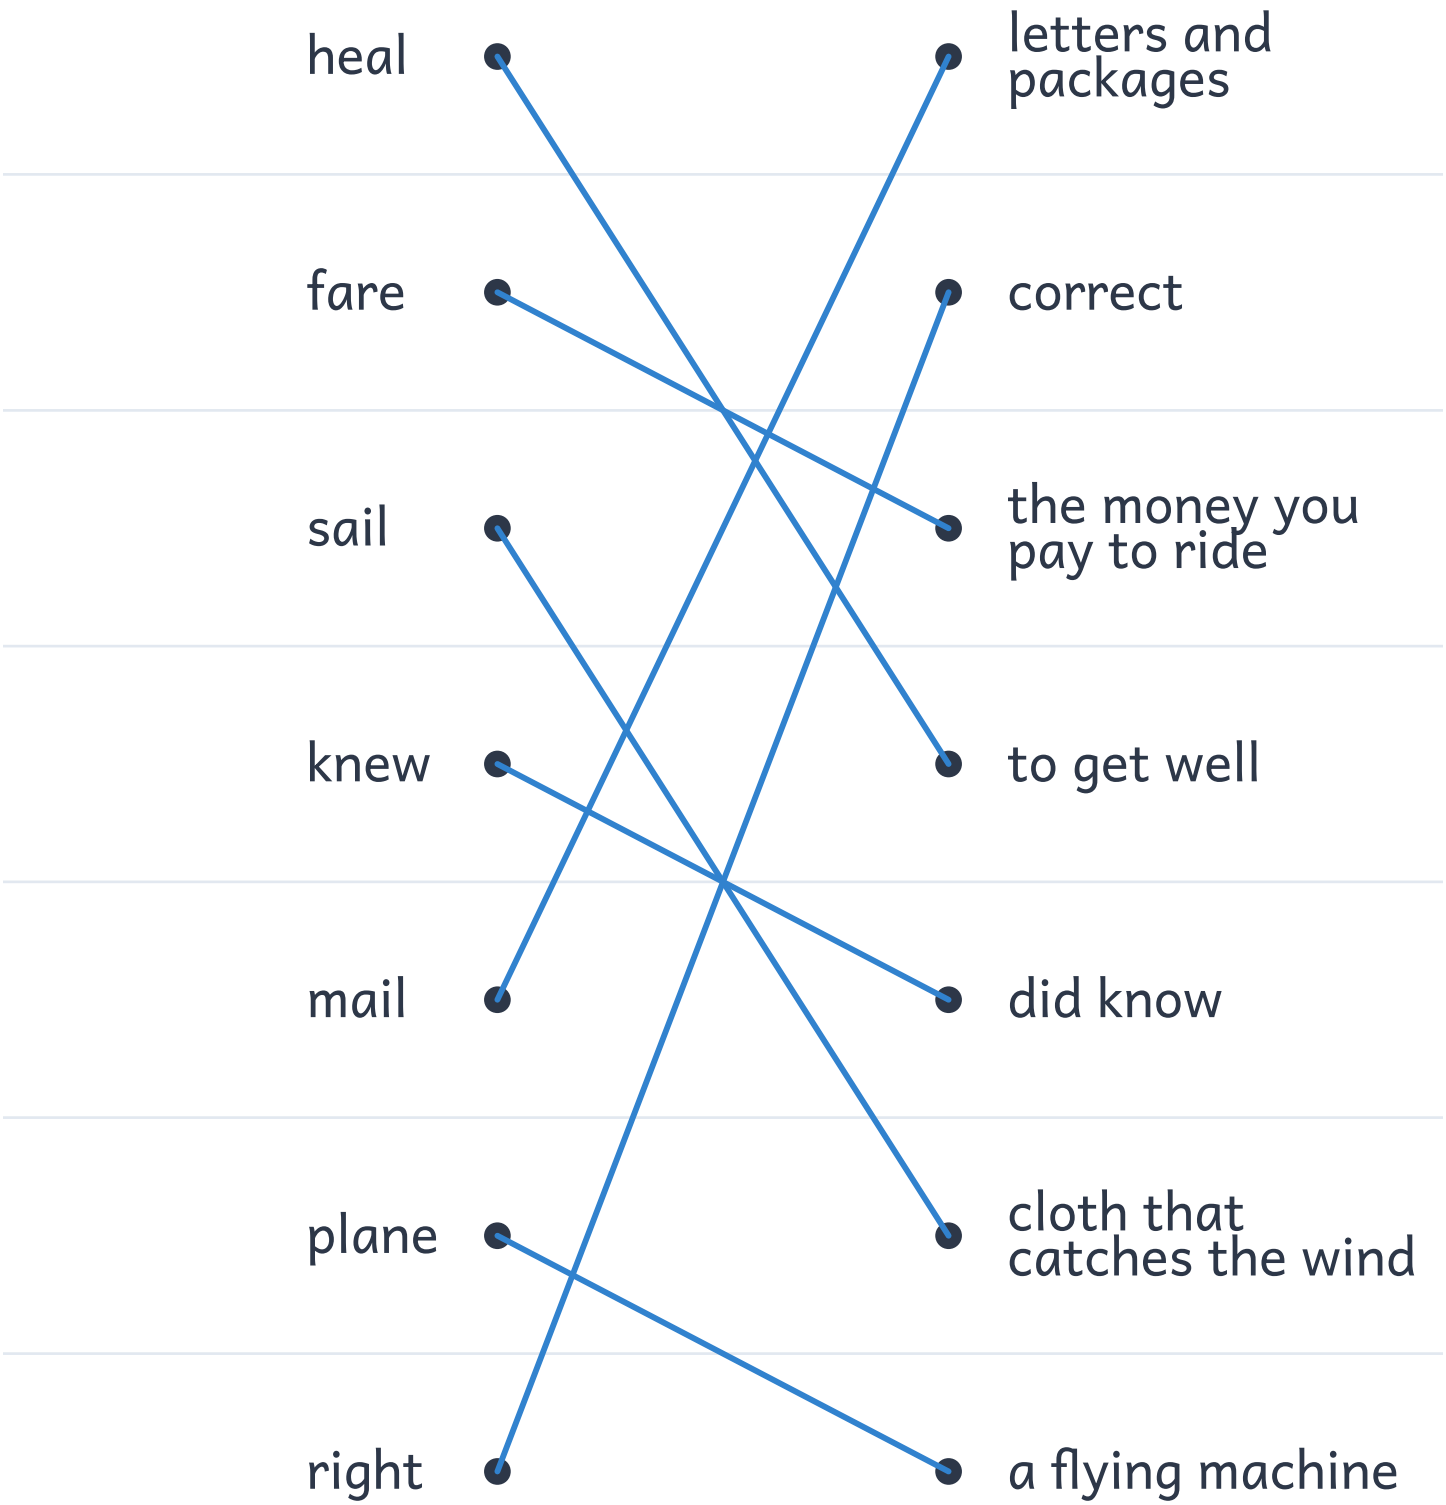

The two kings agreed to live in peace.

piece (peace)

© 2026 Eggroll Games

Homophones

Draw a line from each homophone to what it means.

© 2026 Eggroll Games

Homophones

One word is the wrong homophone. Circle it. Write the right word.

My ant lives on a farm.

aunt

A dear ran into the woods.

deer

It is wrong to steel.

steal

Pay the bus fair when you get on.

fare

Do not drop the glass or it will brake.

break

The plain flew above the clouds.

plane

© 2026 Eggroll Games