Name _____ Date _____

Shifts in Verb Tense

One verb in each sentence is in the wrong tense. Circle it.

Most days, the cat runs in the yard and napped on the rug.

Last week, the pig rolled in the mud and naps in the barn.

Next week, the worms will wiggle in the mud and dug in the dirt.

Next week, the iguanas will nap on the rock and climbed up the tree.

Yesterday, the turtles swam in the sea and sit on the log.

Every morning, the tiger naps in the sun and swam in the river.

Yesterday, the swans glided in the lake and swim in the pond.

© 2026 Eggroll Games

Name _____ Date _____

Shifts in Verb Tense

Find the verb in the wrong tense. Write it in the right tense.

Later today, the goose will swim in the lake and honks in the field.

Later today, the frog will jump in the pond and sat on the rock.

Two days ago, the hen napped in the barn and pecks in the yard.

Every day, the koalas climb up the tree and slept in the tree.

Last week, the bears climbed up the tree and sleep in the cave.

Every day, the snails crawl on the rock and hid under the rock.

© 2026 Eggroll Games

Name _____ Date _____

Shifts in Verb Tense

Do the verbs stay in the same tense? Circle yes or no.

Two days ago, the rabbit dug in the dirt and hopped in the grass.	yes	no
Next week, the seagull will fly over the sea and walk on the beach.	yes	no
Last week, the chicks pecked in the grass and hop in the yard.	yes	no
Tomorrow, the elephant will splash in the river and walks in the grass.	no	yes
Yesterday, the toads sat on the rock and hopped in the mud.	yes	no
Most days, the seal barks on the ice and napped on the rock.	yes	no
Every day, the crab digs in the sand and hides under the rock.	no	yes

© 2026 Eggroll Games

Name _____ Date _____

Shifts in Verb Tense

One verb in each sentence is in the wrong tense. Circle it.

Tomorrow, the snake will slither in the grass and hides under the rock.

Yesterday, the dog ran in the park and barks in the yard.

Two days ago, the lion roared in the grass and naps in the sun.

Every day, the alligators nap in the mud and swam in the river.

Later today, the skunk will sniff in the grass and digs in the yard.

Every day, the owls sit in the tree and flew over the field.

Yesterday, the horse trotted in the field and sleeps in the barn.

© 2026 Eggroll Games

Name _____ Date _____

Shifts in Verb Tense

Find the verb in the wrong tense. Write it in the right tense.

Tomorrow, the monkeys will climb up the tree and swing in the tree.

Last week, the goats climbed up the hill and jump on the rock.

Next week, the bees will buzz in the garden and flew over the field.

Two days ago, the hippo napped in the mud and splashes in the river.

Every day, the penguin swims in the sea and waddled on the snow.

Every morning, the otter swims in the river and floated in the sea.

© 2026 Eggroll Games

Shifts in Verb Tense

One verb in each sentence is in the wrong tense. Circle it.

Most days, the cat runs in the yard and napped on the rug.

Last week, the pig rolled in the mud and naps in the barn.

Next week, the worms will wiggle in the mud and dug in the dirt.

Next week, the iguanas will nap on the rock and climbed up the tree.

Yesterday, the turtles swam in the sea and sit on the log.

Every morning, the tiger naps in the sun and swam in the river.

Yesterday, the swans glided in the lake and swim in the pond.

© 2026 Eggroll Games

Shifts in Verb Tense

Find the verb in the wrong tense. Write it in the right tense.

Later today, the goose will swim in the lake and honks in the field.

honk

Later today, the frog will jump in the pond and sat on the rock.

sit

Two days ago, the hen napped in the barn and pecks in the yard.

pecked

Every day, the koalas climb up the tree and slept in the tree.

sleep

Last week, the bears climbed up the tree and sleep in the cave.

slept

Every day, the snails crawl on the rock and hid under the rock.

hide

© 2026 Eggroll Games

Shifts in Verb Tense

Do the verbs stay in the same tense? Circle yes or no.

Two days ago, the rabbit dug in the dirt and hopped in the grass.	(yes)	no
Next week, the seagull will fly over the sea and walk on the beach.	(yes)	no
Last week, the chicks pecked in the grass and hop in the yard.	yes	(no)
Tomorrow, the elephant will splash in the river and walks in the grass.	(no)	yes
Yesterday, the toads sat on the rock and hopped in the mud.	(yes)	no
Most days, the seal barks on the ice and napped on the rock.	yes	(no)
Every day, the crab digs in the sand and hides under the rock.	no	(yes)

© 2026 Eggroll Games

Shifts in Verb Tense

One verb in each sentence is in the wrong tense. Circle it.

Tomorrow, the snake will slither in the grass and hides under the rock.

Yesterday, the dog ran in the park and barks in the yard.

Two days ago, the lion roared in the grass and naps in the sun.

Every day, the alligators nap in the mud and swam in the river.

Later today, the skunk will sniff in the grass and digs in the yard.

Every day, the owls sit in the tree and flew over the field.

Yesterday, the horse trotted in the field and sleeps in the barn.

© 2026 Eggroll Games

Shifts in Verb Tense

Find the verb in the wrong tense. Write it in the right tense.

Tomorrow, the monkeys will climb up the tree and swing in the tree.

swing

Last week, the goats climbed up the hill and jump on the rock.

jumped

Next week, the bees will buzz in the garden and flew over the field.

fly

Two days ago, the hippo napped in the mud and splashes in the river.

splashed

Every day, the penguin swims in the sea and waddled on the snow.

waddles

Every morning, the otter swims in the river and floated in the sea.

floats

© 2026 Eggroll Games